TEE REUNION OF I NION MEN—THE PRO-POSED STATE CONVENTION. LEBANON. KY., Jan. 5, 1866.
To the Editors of the Louisville Journal: It is really gratificity to see that the division in the ranks of the Union party is to be healed by a convention. Too long have we suffered because of this division. It has nearly given the Kentneky Legislature over to original secessionists and elected to effice such rebels as Johnson and Helm. Unless it is healed—this division—we stand a good change to be repre-Johnson and Helm. Unless it is healed—this division—we stand a good chance to be represented in the Senate of the United States by L. W. Powell. The issues that divided the party are dead. Quarreling over them now amongst curseives when we have a common foe to meet and conquer is mere madness. A home divided against itself must fall. By all means give us this convention. Unge upon the good citizens of every county, who approve of the policy of the President, the propriety and necessity of appointing delegates to this convention. Ask our radical friends to join in with us.

The conservative Union men of this part of the State approve of this convention, and will be represented in it. The time suggested by "R." is appropriate. Respectfully.

A frequent cause of dispuse between the United States and Prussis, arising out of claims of military service from our naturalized citizens returning home on business or visits to friends, has been partially removed. Hitherto, a ten years' alseance deprived a Prussian of his rights as a Prussian subject, without relieving him from his duties as one. The Government has now decreed that the duties shall cease with the rights; so that an emigrant returning home the lights; so that an emigrant returning home after ten years' absence, will be secure against claims for military service.

The public voice should thunder its unterances into the ears of the radicals and fanatics who now bar the way to the accomplishment of this great public good in tones which cannot be misunderstood and which will not go unheaded.

The reople, speaking through public meetings in all parts of the country in approval of the policy of the President, and in condemnation of the action of the destructives, can exercise a potent and commanding infinence. It is due, too, to the President that he should receive the indorsement so dear to every honest plete and irreparable overthrow of the Institution became palpable, we deemed it best to surrender all mere theories in reference to it, and deal with the subject in a strictly practical light. Hence we sought to prepare our people for universal emancipation, an event which is now an established and indisputable fact. Actuated by long cherished prejudices in favor of slavery, a number of our friends hear abused us for the course we adopted in regard to the question, but, we are gratified to state, many who once reproached, are now warmly ap due, too, to the President that he should re-ceive the indorsement so dear to every honest ruler—"well done thou good and faithful ser-vant." Why not commence this good work in Louisville? The example would fly like an electric spark throughout the State, nad the nation would see that Kenneky, though not in good repute, is yet loyal enough to stand by the man who has the nerve to hurl dedance into the face of a cold-blooded, nureasoning, and diabolical fanathelem, which would, if unopposed, feed fat its hate upon the prostrate, bleeding, and exhausted Sonth, and trample the constitution uncer its nuacody feet. eald:

The slave code as it stands now upon our statute books will, it not promptly removed, be a represent to our legislation. We say this with all confidence that our position in regard to the institution of slavery and the rights of the States are too well understood to be mataken or misconceived. So long as slavery was an institution in the land and could be maintained, we were its carnest and honest delender, and we were its carnest and honest delender, and we were in favor of and delended all laws necessary for its control. it for granted that all have done what they executed to be their duty under the circumstances, and the only question I shall ask concerning any one presented to me for pardon will be: "Is he hones; is he capable; is he attacted to the principles of the Constitution of the Laised States and the Constitution of the Laised States and the Constitution of the Laised of Florida?" All shall have the equal shall equal to the laise of the laws, and, as Heaven is my judge, all shall equally suffer the keeust penalty of the laws for any infraction thereof. Law and o eer shall be malitained.

Regarding the negro, the Governor used this language:

"I think we are bound by every consideration of duty, gratitude, and interest, to make these jeople as enlightened, prosperous, and happy as their new situation will admit. For generations past they have been our faithful, centented, and happy slaves. They have been not not completely, and happy slaves. They have been not propertied, and happy slaves. They have been only in the continuated of our persons and our fortness, sharing with ns all our feelings—rejoicing with ns in our adversity. If there were exceptions to this rule, they were only individual exceptions. Every Seuthern man who hears me knows that what I say is literally true in regard to the vast mass of our colored population. The world has never before seen such a body of slaves. For, not only in peace but in war, they have been faithful to us. During much of the time of the fare unhappy difficulties, Florida had a greater number of men in the army, beyond her limits, than constituted her entire voltag population.

ceived this day direct from Paris.

For bollage, heaps:
Of course we would never accede to the demand for regro suffage, should it be made.

We have manifested that our loyalty and desire to renw entrrelations with the Union are so great that lo do so we are willing to yield everything but our honor and our consciences. We have all lost much—many of us our all—all but our honor. Let us preserve that, though we lose everything eise. We have been able to give an honest and conscientions consent to all that has been done, but each one of us knows that we could not give either an honest or a conscientions assum to negro suffrage. There is not one of us that would not feel that he was doing wrong, and bartering his self respect, his convicience, and his duty to his country, and to the Union itself, for the benefits he might hope to obtain by getting back into the Union. Much as I have worshipped the Union, and much as I would rejidee to see my State once more a recognized member thereof, yet it is better, a thousand times better, that she should main ont of the Union, even as one of her subjugated provinces, than go back "eviscerated other manhood," despoiled of her honor, recreant to her duty—without her self respect, and of course without the respect of the balance of markind—a miserable thing, with the steds of moral and political death in herself, soon to be communicated to all her associates.

The Governor concluded with some reference to his own political course and history. 132 Main et., bet, Fourth and Fifth, MEXICO-AN IMPERIALIST VIEW OF THE STATE

Mr. Biair having obtained the floor supported the Constitutional Amendment, pointing out objections to the amendment which proposes to bese representation on suffrage. Should that the adopted the greatest inequalities would result among and between the loval States. California, with scarcely a larger population than Vermont and the same tumber of representatives, would, on a suffrage basis, have three times as many members of this House, and New York, with eleven times the population of Online Court, would not have five times as many representatives. Indiana, with only eight per cent more population than Massachusetta, would have fitty per cent more representation. New York, Jan. 2. The week commenced with a vigorous beat stack on the principal railroad stock. Symptoms of weakness given ont by the bails daulag ast week have encouraged the formation of a trong combination to force down prices, encuraged by the fact that there is a very large but interest contract on the fact. couraged by the fact that there is a very large short interest ontstanding to be soon covered. There was an increased depression at the Stock Exchange this morning on railroads, and there was a further decline on Western roads. New York Central was the strongest stock and about he only one that did not fall off. The most marked decline was on Reading, Pittsburg, Northwestern, and Fort Wayne. At the second and last boards the downward movement in he stock market was checked and prices wore mentrally better. The sharp decline of this horring induced some of the bears to cover hely contracts.
